NEW PENSION LIST.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Commissioner Lochren is spending today at the Interstate encampment here, and there would be no officers on the part of the office to issue blank lists from the public. On the contrary, he favored the widest distribution of the documents. The chief objection of the gentlemen of the bar was the one the general public would make of it. During the last session the address of every pensioner, almost, was obtained by letter representatives in order that they might be enabled to bring to the notice of their constituents the names of those who had been placed on the pension rolls. Under the present system of publication of the list it will be impossible for any one to get such information, except by the payment of a subscription to some publication which may choose to print the list. The list will be published in full in the Congressional Record, and will be distributed to Senators, Representatives, or duties. Every pensioner, or widow, their post-office address, and the amount of pension he or she is receiving. Commissioner Lochren is of the opinion that the list is a matter of public interest, and that the people have a right to know who are receiving pensions, and how much they are receiving. He holds that widows' names are valid in such cases, and believes that the greater portion of the public will be pleased to see the list published. Commissioner Lochren is of the opinion that the list will be completed and ready for distribution by the 15th of September. The publication of the list will be commenced as soon as possible after that date.

"DUTCHA."

Opinions of some members on extending reciprocity to Holland and Belgium.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—In accordance with the recent order of the president that the heads of one of the popular social gatherings, which are usually held throughout the country under the general name of "Dutchas," the Commissioner of Internal Revenue might reconsider a decision in regard to the liability of such social entertainments to a special tax as beverages. He holds that where liquors are sold in such an assembly as mentioned, that place will be required to the payment of a particular assessment of $25 per annum, and every separate sale of liquor on such days by the proprietor of the "Dutchas" will be required to pay a special tax of $1. The question of whether or not a "Dutchas" is a merely social affair, and therefore not liable to the tax, will be decided by the circumstances of the case. If the entertainment is given by a society or club, and the proceeds are devoted to charitable purposes, it will be considered a social affair, and not liable to the tax. The decision will be of great interest to the public generally, as it will affect a number of social entertainments which are given throughout the country.

DEPARTMENTAL GOSSIP.

Of the fifty per cent basis authorized by the Fifty-first Congress, under the director of the Treasury, $40,000,000 had been sent to the United States Treasury to meet an accrued and outstanding obligation. These funds, when combined with interest to July 1, 1893, will be sufficient to meet the entire liability of the government on account of the original bonds. The amount of interest which will be saved to the government by the redemption of the bonds will be $1,000,000 per annum. The Secretary of the Treasury will not recommend that the government should buy the bonds at a premium, but will recommend that the law be changed so that the government may be permitted to redeem the bonds at par. Closing Sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science—Interesting Proceedings.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—The last session assembling this noon to order shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. President Young was elected for the Chicago Convention last elected for the two hundred names on account, proposed and printed, was submitted with it. The customary resolutions of thanks were offered and adopted, all of which were complimentary to the city as one of the most wonderful growth in the history of the country, being a great surprise to those who had never seen Minneapolis before.

The Hon. George A. Pillsbury said that the committee had labored with pleasure to the resolutions offered. It was the desire of the citizens to furnish ample accommodations to the visitors. But owing to many calls made on the part of persons who had not registered, and who were unfortunately at the time, it was afforded an opportunity to visit our city, and we wish that we might have seen more of our citizens here, with renewing their kind visit there. This was the result of a misunderstanding.

Prof. Pickett, in response to the very complimentary resolutions passed, thanking the Minneapolis members, said:

Members of the Science Association, the council to plan to enjoy every moment of your visit to the Twin Cities, and we will be disappointed if the morning, noon and night is a stranger. Nothing that I can do to assist in the entertainment of your visit will be considered a favor. We have only to say that we have enjoyed your visit, and we hope that you will come again. We wish that you might have seen more of our city, St. Paul, of which we are almost as proud as of Minneapolis. Some time ago we were told that we were a city of magnificent distances. This was the result of a misunderstanding.

MARINE DISASTER.

San Pedro, Cal., Aug. 30.—The fact that the Italian bark Adelaide of San Francisco, was bound to coaling ports and that no one had been in the entrance here was the occasion of much anxiety. The Adelaide left San Francisco on the 19th inst. for Port Townsend, Wash., where she loaded with coal for this port. She was under tow of the steamer Fearless, which arrived in the channel Wednesday, Sept. 20th, and the Adelaide was towed to the anchorage. Captain Ferrando, master of the Adelaide, reports that the vessel was struck by a heavy gale on the night of the 20th inst., and that the vessel was driven before the wind for two days. The vessel was then driven to the south, and the vessel was driven to the south, and the vessel was driven to the south, and the vessel was driven to the south.

LABOR CONGRESS.

Secretary's report.

New York, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—The annual report of Secretary of the Federation of Trade and Labor Unions was read to the Central Labor Federation this morning. The Legislative Committee presented a report giving a history of the labor agitation of the last year. The report of the committee on the organization of Unions and Their Workers in affiliation with the Federation because of a difference between the two bodies as to the tariff question was rejected. The report favored the investigation of the Union Committee on Education and Labor, and recommended the offering of a series of $50 to the best essays on trade-unionism and strikes.

The Committee on Creating Unions reported a constitution for Unions in Brooklyn, Hoboken, Staten Island and Yonkers. The report of the Executive Committee of the Federation was received and adopted. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Thomas J. Morgan; Vice-President, Peter J. McGuire; Secretary, John B. Lennon; Treasurer, Henry Weismann; Sergeant-at-Arms, Thomas Hall; Trustees, Samuel Gompers, Peter J. McGuire, Thomas J. Morgan, Henry Weismann, and John B. Lennon.

JUSTICE COLERIDGE.

A pleasant experience on the anticipated arrival.

New York, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Lord Chief-Justice Coleridge, who will arrive at this port on the steamship Lucania, which is expected tomorrow, will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Jones, Peter Cooper, Mr. Peter Cooper, President of the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, and Associate Justice of the New York Court of Appeals, and Charles Scribner, all personal friends and admirers of Parliament for the Borough of Dundalk, Ireland, some years ago, but not as the guests of the New York State Bar Association, as stated yesterday. Lord Coleridge sails for Italy on the 1st of September, and will take steps to leave for Chicago on the 2d. He will probably go West on an extended tour. On Thursday evening, Oct. 12, there will be a reception in honor of Lord Coleridge and Lady Coleridge will take place at the residence of Mayor Gilroy. The Reception Committee of the reception will consist of the Mayor of the leading citizens and citizens of the State. Chief-Justice Williams, Justice of the Court of Appeals, the Chairman of the Bar Association will probably act as Chairman of the Reception Committee. Lord Coleridge will probably arrive in the United States from Montreal, and will be met at the Hudson River Railroad depot in this city by Mayor Gilroy, Chief-Justice Williams, Justice Peckham, and other prominent gentlemen. It is expected that Lord Coleridge will be met at the depot by a large crowd of people, and that he will be escorted to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where he will remain during his stay in this country.

Local gossip.

The production of the opera of "El Capitan" opens tomorrow night and marks the beginning of the season at the Fifth Avenue Theatre.

The city of Jacksonville, the "Chicago of the South," is the scene of disorder and riot. Some citizens, members of the Board of Trade, have been arrested for the murder of Mr. Dennett, a prominent citizen, who was killed in a duel with a pistol. The trouble arose over the question of the location of the new Board of Trade building. The citizens are divided into two factions, and the feeling is very bitter. The trouble began on the 19th inst., when Mr. Dennett was shot and killed by a man named Johnson. The latter was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $5,000. The trouble has been brewing for some time, and it is thought that the shooting will result in a general fight.

THE MINNESOTA HORROR.

The Path Pursued by the Storm-Spirit—A Modern Pandemonium, Horror and Hideous Ghoul Obscenity.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—All the destruction was the result of a terrific tornado which passed over Northern Minnesota yesterday afternoon and evening, which seemed to gather force from every direction and move northward and westward through the city very much as the cyclone which visited Sioux City and vicinity a few years ago. The tornado struck the town of Anoka, and then passed over the Twin Cities, Duluth, and the Superior Bay Cities, and then out on the Superior Bay. The tornado had a very dangerous passage. In the morning of the 29th inst., when between 10 and 11 o'clock, the storm of dense, black, murky clouds were completely enveloped. The Chicago Theatre will give a special performance of Mr. Daly's play, "The Last Word," which will be produced for the first time in this city. The Steamship White Star Friendship Joining Unfortunately List of Ships.

Queenstown, Ire., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Interest has been revived anew in the case of the steamship White Star Line steamship Lord Derby by the arrival of the vessel into this port. The vessel, Capt. Smith, the commander, reports that nothing has been seen or heard of the Lord Derby, though, of course, following the track of the Adriatic has been, that took on the steamer for her. The Adriatic had a very dangerous passage. In the morning of the 29th inst., when between 10 and 11 o'clock, the storm of dense, black, murky clouds were completely enveloped. DEAD OR ALIVE.

John Schillinger's Remarkable Statement—Was He Murdered Before Fatal Shot, Or Committed Suicide, Will Never Be Known.

The case of John Schillinger, the young German who died recently in consequence of a gunshot wound in the temple, has been the subject of much discussion, and the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury that he committed suicide has been generally accepted as correct. The Chicago Tribune has been informed that the case will be investigated by the Grand Jury, and that the verdict will be set aside. Mr. Martin J. Townsend Interviewed on His Return from the West.

Judge Gaudy's Decision Discussed by the Ohio State Democratic Committee.

The Republicans Quite Cheerful at the Way the Election Is.

The Constitution of the Kansas Vote in this Legislature to an Effect.

MARTIN J. TOWNSEND.

Mr. Martin J. Townsend, of Troy, N. Y., arrived here last evening en route to his home after a tour during the Presidential term, his last prominently affected by him, any eleventh-hour turn favored by a visit to the Commissioner arrived at the Grand Pacific yesterday morning, accompanied by his grandson, a nephew, and a young friend, and started for home in the afternoon.

In some brief references to his Western trip Mr. Townsend was naturally unwilling to give the exact grandeur he had witnessed in the Yellowstone region, but added however written to the class-values of the prior accommodations or general affordability. With the exception of Denver Grand, he found everything good, and a fresh town, there was not a virtual shade to the region of why people arrive where he had previously visited, and travelers were allured to every hotel and saloon and sold out for themselves. Figuratively to the soil, that soon, but the growth of crops and the commercial town remains steady. He was sorry to be present, too, of the agricultural outcome of the Yellowstone Valley, and was quite agreed upon the fact that the crops are better than for either of those years by a third. Wheat, oats, barley, and potatoes are all good. Mr. Townsend says that the Democrats are to a great deal more sure of success in New York than anywhere else in the country, and he feels confident that the party will carry the State by a handsome majority. He is of the belief that the Democrats will be able to accept promises to the contrary and prefer assurances to Democrats, Mayor Hewitt, if elected, is pledged to support the ticket in every way, and Governor Flower is expected to do the same. Mr. Townsend is of the opinion that the Democrats will be able to carry the State by a majority which will be a good thing for the party.

"You are out of active politics now, are you, Mr. Townsend?"

"Yes, I was out of Congress in 1876, and got out of United States Senator Edmunds's term, which expires, President Arthur was good enough to recognize me and give me a place.

"As an observer, then, what do you think of the present condition of New York politics?"

"I look on this about there, as regards, as you know the state. There I have been away for quite time, and have lost the run of things.

"The New York City Democrats seem to be divided by a number of factions, and there is a prospect of an explosion at the State Convention.

"The New York City Democrats are a peculiar people and such an explosion would not surprise me. Whether or not there will be a split in the party I cannot say. I have been away for quite a time, and have lost the run of things.

"Do you think there will be very great difference among the New York Democracy this year, as to the Presidential candidate?

"No, nothing to the sort which might arise if Gov. Hill should be nominated for a third term. Hill would not have had any Tilden elected under the circumstances, but I don't think he pulls for the Democrats to elect every candidate on the ticket. I was a Democrat myself, and therefore, consequently great opportunities, and I couldn't vote that way and not. But the Democrats are to a great deal more sure of success in New York than anywhere else in the country, and I believe that New York will be carried by a handsome majority. It is of the belief that the party will carry their State ticket this year beyond a doubt.

"Are you well with about candidates?"

"Not a great deal. No one knows what Mr. Cleveland intends to do, and no one knows what Mr. Hill intends to do, and nothing will be said on the subject by any of the leading Democrats until Cleveland acts. But you know the party must do it to make the candidate for governor of New York. The Democrats demand a ticket for success, and present one, and in such a contest the party can carry Democratic with ease and joy."

"What do you think of the Democratic prospects in the Northwestern States, and how do you regard the Democratic party in Illinois?"

"I am in the Northwestern States, and I am pleased to say that the party is in good shape. Illinois is all right, and I have no doubt that the party will be successful. The Democrats are in good shape, and I understand that in all probability the entire support of the delegation, if either be a favorite or otherwise the position of the party on the tariff question, will be clearly defined, and I am for the Democratic candidate and platform."

OHIO.

Mr. Gaudy's Decision—Criticism of the Court Condemned.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The following statement is the Columbus Democratic Committee: "Upon Democratic citizens are hereby invited to a conference of Democratic friends, at Columbus, Ohio, on Thursday, August 13, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of considering the action of the Supreme Court in the case of Judge Gaudy, and to take such steps as may be deemed necessary to secure a fair election in October next. Signed by the following members of the State Executive Committee: [Here follow the names of the members.]"

Right on the heels of this demand the State Executive Committee met tonight, but what was done cannot be learned, except that Judge Gaudy was attributed for a speech at Newark tomorrow and at Youngstown Saturday, both of which have been withdrawn. It is understood that the Democratic State Committee has not intended anything of action of the people of the Democratic party.

C. A. BLANCHARD.

The New Chairman of the Board of Trade.

The New Chairman of the Board of Trade is Mr. Blanchard, who has been a member of the Board for a number of years. Mr. Blanchard is one of the speculators in Congress, having succeeded to control of a Democrat from 1877 to 1879 continuously. He is personally acquainted with all the prominent men in the country, and is from New York, he was asked what the fact was that he was a Democrat in regard to the election next year. He said to many that he found matters Democratic everywhere, and that the party was sure to carry the country in 1892. The only adverse difference in the party in New York appeared to exhibit. Democrats there were lost, and they intend to take advantage of it. Even the difference in this the year will be adjusted before the election comes off. The New York Democrats say they will carry their State ticket this year beyond a doubt.

"Are you well with about candidates?"

"Not a great deal. No one knows what Mr. Cleveland intends to do, and no one knows what Mr. Hill intends to do, and nothing will be said on the subject by any of the leading Democrats until Cleveland acts. But you know the party must do it to make the candidate for governor of New York.
